REMITTANCE AND COINAGE OF PRECIOUS METALS.

COLOMBO AS A RIVAL TO BOMBAY.

In the House of Commons on November 6th Sir Edward Sassoon asked the Secretary of State for India, if he will state the amount of gold remitted from India since February this year, and to what purpose these remittances have been applied; the sums of gold now held in India in the currency reserves, the Government treasures and the gold reserves fund respectively; whether any of the latter is deposited with the Presidency banks or otherwise utilised in aid of commerce; the number of rupees (including value of subsidiary coins) issued since the beginning of this year; the total amount of silver imported during the same period, how much of this has been on Government account, and whether this portion is subject to the five per cent. import duty; the present amount of the cash balances in India and England respectively; and what has been, since March 4th, the average weekly amount sent out from the Indian Office Treasury in aid of the money market here.

LORD GEORGE HAMILTON: The amount of gold remitted by the Government of India to this country since February last is £500,000 which has added to the balances held by the Secretary of State in Council. The amount of gold held by the Government of India on Oct. 15 was as follows: Current reserve, £5,748,000; Government treasures, £88,000; Gold fund, £175,000; total, £5,901,000. I have no reason to believe that any of this gold is deposited with the Presidency banks. If it were so deposited it would, of course, be necessary to transfer from the banks to the currency reserve or the treasuries an equivalent amount in rupees, a course which, in all probability, would hinder commerce rather than aid it; but for a considerable time, whenever the mercantile community has desired gold in exchange for rupees, the Government of India has made its own stock freely available. The total coinage of silver in India from April 1st till August 31, 1902, was 7,38,63,606 rs. (£4,925,000). But this includes the coinage of British dollars for use in Hongkong and the Straits Settlements, the rupees coined for Native States and the subsidiary coinage for use in British India. The rupees coined for Native States amounted to about 80,00,000 rs.; but I am not yet in possession of exact figures on this point. The imports of silver into India during the period just mentioned were as follows:—On private account, 5,04,47,857 rs.; on Government account, 51,30 rs. It is provided by law that no Customs duty is leviable on goods belonging to the Government of India. The latest figures for the cash balances in India and Eng. are as follows:—In India, on Aug. 31, 16,93,000 rs.; in England, on Nov. 4, £5,067,128. The average weekly amount of loan from the home treasury during the present financial year has been £5,100,000.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION IN ENGLAND AND INDIA.

The magnificent School of Technology which the Prime Minister opened the other day at Manchester, is the most concrete illustration of the wholesome change which is confounding over public opinion in Great Britain in respect of the practical value to industries of scientific research. It has been described as by far the finest technical institute in England, and Mr. Schwann who had been touring in Germany and studying the wonderful industrial progress of that country within recent years, wrote of it as possessing a building and appliances worthy of Marvylster and suitable in a superlative degree to reach the best practical, and theoretical methods of adapting science to industry. The school occupies an area of 6,400 yards, and is six stories high. It has cost nearly £1,000,000, and has been seven years in building. It comprises almost every important branch of science applicable to industries electrical, mechanical, and sanitary engineering, the sciences relating to architecture, and the photographic and printing arts, and chemistry in all its branches with an elaborate provision of laboratories and workshops attached to each. Mr. Balfour spoke of it as being "perhaps the greatest fruit of its kind of Municipal enterprise in this country." The first Technical Instruction Act was passed in 1889, and it empowered Municipalities to devote their funds to institutions having for their object the provision of technical instruction. Manchester is the second municipality in Great Britain to avail itself of the powers conferred on it by that act and a special rate was levied at once for the purpose of the Technical School. Here is a lesson for Indian Municipalities to take to heart. Not many of them are over-rich, it is true, but some of them can well afford to raise their rates, and we believe there is no legal obstacle to their devoting them to the maintenance of technical schools. The more feasible thing at present, perhaps for a number of neighbouring municipal and local bodies to co-operate in the establishment and maintenance of a central institution with District Boards constructing railways out of the rates; it is not impossible that this equally productive investment of capital may command itself to the more enterprising of our local bodies in course of time.—Times of India.

Intimations.

IT IS DIFFERENT NOW.

Once upon a time students of medicine held the notion that there were as many different diseases as the body has organs and parts; every one of these ailments requiring a different treatment. So stupid a mistake could lead only to miserable failures! For the fact is the body is a single machine; and what concerns one part of it concerns, more or less closely, all the rest. Thus we see how it happens that one remedy, or mode of treatment, may relieve and cure a variety of complaints,—or, what may appear like a variety, but are really various forms or out-comes of the same cause. Take, for example, Anemia, Scrofula, Poverty of Blood, General Debility, Influenza, Throat and Lung Diseases, etc.—a formidable array indeed they look to be yet!

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION. quickly abates the worst of such cases, and absolutely cures many which have been abandoned as hopeless. The reasons are: its power over the digestive and assimilating process, its action in expelling impurities from the blood, and its consequent ability to vitalize and rebuild the whole structure. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It was not dreamed out, or discovered by accident; it was studied out, on the solid principles of applied medical science. It is precisely what it is said to be, and has won the confidence of the public on that basis. You may resort to it with a faith and hope that arise from the history of what it has done for others. Dr. Thos. Hunt Stucky says: "The continued use of it in my practice, convinces me that it is the most palatable, least nauseating, and best preparation now on the market." Every dose effective. "You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by chemists here and throughout the world and A. S. Watson & Co. Limited.

OWING to the insufficiency of accommodation in the present building and the increasing demand for admission, it has been found necessary to extend the wings of the main building and to enlarge the Chinese department by an additional storey with two wings. The estimated cost will amount to over $15,000. To cover these expenses we appeal to the liberality of all friends of Education. The establishment has been in existence for the last 25 years and is open to all classes. Much of the clerical work of the city is carried on by its past pupils. As this is the first time we have applied for assistance we expect a generous response. The names of our most liberal Benefactors will be inscribed upon marble tablets, as a lasting testimony of their generosity.

KOWLOON WATERWORKS.

In consequence of an insufficiency of the P.W.D. staff, the carrying out of the new scheme

for the supply of water to Kowloon b' gravity was entrusted to Messrs. Denison, Ram &
Gibbs. Previous to joining the firm of Messrs.

Denison & Ram, Mr. Gibbs, as an Assistant Engineer in the Public Works Department,

with which he was connected for 91 years,
had reported on the scheme which, with considerable amplification, was adopted; hence the reason for entrusting the w'k to this firm. The preliminary arrangements were concluded in July and, at the end of October
last year, the amplified scheme was submitted to the Secretary of State for the Colonies

under the Secretary of State for the Colonies

last year. The estimated cost of the work is $235,000 as compared with an original estimate of $380,000, the principal increase being in the Storage Reservoir, which is calculated to contain 310 million gallons instead of 120 millions

as originally proposed. Part of the increase is accounted for by the advance in prices which occurred between the dates of the two estimates.

At about 2.45 this morning the Fire Brigade

under Mr. A. Mackie, Chief Inspector, was summoned to No. 318, Queen's Road; where a fire had broken out that soon destroyed the three-storeyed building. The cause of the outbreak is not known.

CHRISTMAS IN HONGKONG.

A ROUND OF PLEASURE.

Yuletide in Hongkong is not the festive season one so thoroughly appreciates at home,
but no evidence is wanting that the occasion
is made one of rejoicing for young and old.
Many enjoyable entertainments were provided,
pleasant picnics figured on the programme
despite the unfavourable weather, and excursionists visited Canton and Macao to spend a Christmas wandering around these interesting places.
But it is with Hongkong that most people are concerned,
and a glance into the way in which its inhabitants
enjoyed the festive season will not be amiss.

The entertainment given by the Taikoo Club heads the list as it was given on the afternoon of Christmas eve. Coloured flakes of cotton wool and other decorations turned the cosy club house into a picture from the Arabian Nights while a beautiful Christmas tree was adorned by a number of brilliant electric lights besides nice presents for seventy to eighty youngsters. After the good things had been distributed, the Christmas tree was removed to the back of the stage and a good programme was opened by a chorus medley. Those who assisted were Mrs. D.

Currie, Mrs. R. Stephenson, Miss T. Hoskins,
Mr. R. Dickson, and Mr. T. Grimshaw.
Mrs. W. Smith gave a skirt dance, and this was followed by a pretty little sketch in which Mrs. R. Stephenson, Mr. R. Stephenson, Mr.
T. Grimshaw, Mr. D. Currie and little "Pudgie Dickie" took parts. Dancing terminated this pleasant evening, the arrangements for which were prepared by Mr. R. Stephenson. An elaborate scheme was drawn up and successfully performed for the celebration of Christmas at the Kowloon Docks. When the curtain went up a Fairy Queen (Miss Mary Stewart) was to be seen holding a wand over two little babes in a cradle, and she afterwards sang an appropriate song. Young Master Jack, in the attire of an angel, "flew" on to the stage and shortly afterwards Father Christmas (Mr.
J. Russell) came down the chimney. Among those who took part in a pretty little play that followed were:—Master J. McGlashan as Little Boy Blue, Miss Ward as Her Perp, Miss
Lily Neaves Old Mother Hubbard, Miss Annie
Logan, Little Red Riding Hood, Ma-ter Kerr,
Dick Whittington, Master Lambert, policeman,
Master Tommy Logan, Tommy Tucker,
Miss Lily Loggin, Misther Ethel Parker,
Izy, Master Angus Stuart, Pintaloona, Master
Jack, clown, Miss Jack, Holey, and Master Kin Ross, as one of the babes in the cradle. After the performance the Christmas tree began to turn and Old Father Christmas singled out one after another from his large flock gathered around and gave them presents. Miss Guy acted as pianist and other musicians imitated Big Ben chimes.—A most pleasant concert
was given to the patients of the Government Civil Hospital by Dr. J. M. Atkinson on Christmas afternoon. Among those present were: Sir Henry, Lady and Miss Blake, Lady Gascoigne, Commodore
and Mrs. Robinson, and Lady Goodman.
Messrs. Grimble and Ward opened the performance by a piano-forte duet, and others who contributed to the harmony were Mr.
G. Mailand, b Fitch, Mr. G. Ward, Mrs. Badley,
Mr. C. H. Basto, Mr. H. P. Hay, Miss Eyre and Miss
Pitts. Mr. L. H. Branson, 10th Bombay Light Infantry, brought the performance to a close by some very smart sleight-of-hand tricks. Lady Blake afterwards distributed to the patients gifts from a Christmas tree.—
Members of the Catholic Union considered themselves amply rewarded for money and valuable time spent in preparing a diplomatic mission.

According to report, the new Governor will
shortly leave for Japan and then for Bangkok
in order to present his credentials at the Eastern capitals as envoy extraordinary and
minister plenipotentiary to the Japanese and Siamese Courts, respectively.

THE HARBOUR.

The siting up of the harbour of Macao goes on increasing year after year, so that on certain days the Heungshau will only be able to leave her wharf at ten o'clock instead of at eight in the morning. The necessary means for the improvement of the harbour have been delayed, and if this official negligence continues the trade of Macao with Hongkong and Canton will suffer much as it has suffered for some time without the Government ever thinking earnestly of checking the further growth of the evil.

DIPLOMATIC MISSION.

According to report, the new Governor will
shortly leave for Japan and then for Bangkok
in order to present his credentials at the Eastern capitals as envoy extraordinary and
minister plenipotentiary to the Japanese and Siamese Courts, respectively.

THE COLONIAL SECRETARY.

It is matter for regret to see the vehemence displayed in public print in the attacks against the Colonial Secretary especially when he is debarred from resorting to the press in his defence. The latest report is without foundation.

It is one to the effect that the dinner

A Royal Sensation.

London, December 23rd.

A sensation has been caused in Dresden owing to the official announcement of the secret flight abroad, on the night of the 11th instant, of the Crown Princess of Saxony, in a morbid state of mental excitement. She is supposed to have gone to Geneva, and that her flight is due to family differences.

The Venezuelan Blockade.

The Italian cruiser Giovanni Battista has captured five more Venezuelan schooners, and the German Panther two.

The effects of the blockade are beginning to be felt. It is estimated that only a fortnight's food remains at Caracas. The British ship Fantome has been refloated.

England and Germany.

December 25th.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, speaking at Stirling, said that he had nothing but condemnation for those who by their stupid and vulgar abuse had fomented discord between Great Britain and Germany. His complaint was in respect of the nature and extent of the obligations into which we had entered with Germany, and he thought that if ever there was a case for arbitration it was this one. It was no part of our national duty to collect failing dividends for bondholders in Berlin.

Somaliland.

Italy having accorded the necessary facilities, seven hundred troops have left Berbera for Obbia where they are due to arrive on the 27th instant.

COUNT Lavatelli representing Italy accompanied the force.

The Venezuelan Difficulty.

Formal British and German proposals to President Roosevelt, asking him to arbitrate on the Venezuelan difficulty, have reached Washington to-day.

LATER.

An Italian Note has reached Washington, couched in the most cordial terms towards the United States. It says that Italy will be glad to see President Roosevelt arbitrate in the matter of the disputes with Venezuela, and that if not disposed to do so she has no objection to a reference of the questions to the Hague tribunal.

Indian Miners for South Africa.

Several hundred Indians have started work in the Koffyfontein mines, Orange River Colony, to-day. This is a first experiment.

A Warning to the Trade Unions.

London, 20th December.

The Taff Vale Railway Co sued the Railway Servants' Union for £2,000 damages, for conspiracy to cause a strike in 1901, and have obtained a verdict, the assessment of damages being deferred. This is a severe blow to Trade Unionism.

A Wonderful Proof of Civilisation.

Before he left Nair Obi, the Somalis presented Mr. Chamberlain with an address in a silver casket.

CANTON NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CANTON, Dec. 26th, 1902.

CHRISTMAS.

Christmas passed off quietly. The day for the most part was wet. The ships in the harbour were decorated with flags and branches, but the rain spoilt the effect. In the city there was little to indicate that it was Christmas. Several of the missions had special services in the churches. At all the churches the attendance was very large.

U. S. MINISTER TO SIAM.

Mr. King, U. S. Minister to Siam, is spending a few days in Canton.

THE CHINA MERCHANTS' STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY.

The Imperial Decree, ordering the Chinese Telegraph service to be turned into a purely Government concern, raised unfavourable criticisms on all sides, the Universal Gazette says. Scarce had these criticisms ceased when the local foreign press received a telegraphic report from Peking to the effect that the Chinese Government was about to make the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company undergo a similar change. This report is already bad enough; but the information we have just obtained about the C. M. S. N. Co. is still worse. According to our information, a certain foreign Minister, acting upon the suggestion of a merchant of his nationality, recently wrote to the Wai Wu Pu, asking that the C. M. S. N. Co. be registered as a limited liability company so that foreign capital might be admitted into the concern. Though the Wai Wu Pu knew that the request could not be complied with, they neither expressed their opposition to it nor replied to the foreign minister's despatch. But the foreign merchant in question has not yet given up this castle in the air as he is reported to have just presented the head of such Li Lien-ying with a large bribe, requesting him to move the Empress-Dowager to issue a decree in accordance with his desire.

MORTIFYING POSITION.

Kinder thus had the mortification of seeing his project handed over to foreign rivals. The Russians were so impressed, however, with what he had done, that they carried off his little hand-made engine, the first that ran on his tram line, and have deposited it in the St. Petersburg Museum as a monument of an era in the history of the Far East. The northern section of the railway from Peking to Hankow will take, Colonel Manifold thinks, some seven years to build, owing to the heavy bridging necessary. The southern section from Hankow to Canton is vastly easier. The highest point it has to cross on its way to the sea is only a thousand feet high, and this with easy grading. The concession for the southern section was given, with British approval, to an American syndicate with has commenced work both from Canton and from the Tungting Lake on the Yangtze about a hundred miles from Hankow. Forty per cent. of the shares, however, are said to be in Belgian hands, which in China too often means that France and Russia are pulling the strings. Colonel Manifold looks upon this railway as of enormous importance in connection with the future development of the country, for whoever controls it will influence a so the great hinterlands it traverses. The fact that this line is not British means besides that several millions' worth of rolling stock will be purchased for it during the next ten years elsewhere than in England.

FORTY MILLION LIVES LOST.

The Yellow River was afterwards crossed and Col. Manifold notices the extraordinary destruction of human life and the devastation of the country caused by this river's periodical changing of its bed. Forty million people, he heard, had been washed away or starved, owing to its inundations 15 years ago, the floods rendering vast areas of cultivated land sterile by covering it with sand. The people generally appeared to realise that the allies had occupied Peking and had inflicted heavy punishment upon the Chinese nation. In the remotest villages, where no foreigner had ever before been, the elders used to ask Col. Manifold about it, and they were none of the self-deception which was so noticeable after the Japanese war, when it was honestly believed throughout the length and breadth of China that the Emperor had accepted the submission of the barbarians and permitted them to depart unpunished.

A CHANCE FOR BRITISH CAPITAL.

Of the Yangtse region Col. Manifold speaks enthusiastically alike as regards its great agricultural and mineral wealth, its numerous industries, and dense population. He says it is now a case of waking up the British capitalist and investor to the advantages of developing it. He holds that if capital and enterprise only are forthcoming there will be no difficulty in establishing British preponderance in this marvellous region, to which our gunboats already have access for 2,000 miles up the river. He adds, "gunboats alone will not develop trade in a country, and no sane man wants a yard of Chinese territory to pass out of the hands of the Chinese, but we do want to see our mercantile interest firmly established, and big enterprises, in British hands, opening up this rich Upper Yangtze country at once—a country so rich in resources and population that enterprises, once started, must pay. It is capable of a development that would cause it to take ten times the trade that it does now from us." He adds the warning that "if enterprise is not forthcoming soon there is great danger that we may find other nations have established railroads and mining interests so firmly in the rich portions of this region that they will be able to assert a right of developing them entirely in their own interests, and keep us excluded."

At the close of the lecture Col. Manifold was warmly applauded.

PEKING TO SZECHUAN.

COLONEL MANIFOLD'S ADVENTUROUS JOURNEY.

A most interesting and at times exciting narrative was unfolded by Lieut-Colonel Manifold, of the Indian Medical Service, in a lecture which he delivered on October 10 before the United Service Instiute at Simla, recounting his adventurous journey, in company with Captain Hunter, R. E., from Peking to Szechuan.

The President of the evening, General Barrow, spoke highly of the intrepidity and energy of the lecturer and his companion, Captain Hunter, who had between them not only traversed 4,500 miles of the most difficult country, a distance by road equivalent to that from Calcutta to Peshawar, and thence by Bombay to Tuticorin, and back to Calcutta, but had actually made a survey of the whole distance, which meant 20 miles a day.

BRITISH INFLUENCE.

In the course of his lecture Col. Manifold showed that the two travellers left Peking in September last year, immediately after the Chinese had agreed to the payment of the indemnity, and when the allied forces were still in possession of Peking. British influence, therefore, stood high, and Colonel Manifold and his companion were not wrong in thinking that this would be sufficient to insure their protection in spite of the disturbed state of the country. The party included Mr. Harris, who acted as interpreter, two trained Roorkee surveyors, six Gurkhas, four Indian servants, and 20 mules. For the first 10 miles the route was by train on the recently reconstructed railway to Paoting-fu. This place they found in an excited state, the current rumour being that the French had evacuated it only because they were compelled to do so by superior Chinese force.

SPLENDID RAILWAY SCHEMES.

Colonel Manifold describes the railway as a magnificent project which will eventually be continued to Canton, tapping the commerce of the great waterways which it crosses en route, and opening up the rich mineral districts of Shansi, which contain some of the finest coal and iron beds in the world. It is actually under construction for 250 miles from either end, and it is to be regretted that Great Britain has no share in it, although both its conception and its inception were due to the

MINISTER WU'S APPEAL.

WANTS THE POWERS TO SUBMIT CASE TO ARBITRATION AT THE HAGUE.

Minister Wu is hopeful that China will be the proper to submit the second case for the arbitration of The Hague tribunal. He is working hard to induce the powers party to the treaty of Peking to consent to arbitrate the important question as to whether the indemnities to be paid them shall be paid on a gold or a silver basis. The issue is of the utmost importance to China; in fact, it is said that the insistence of the powers upon a settlement on the gold basis would mean the ruin of the Chinese empire, which is totally unable to pay the vast sum of nearly four hundred and fifty million taels in gold.

The question has been under discussion for many months, and while it was still pending the first instalment of the indemnity became due last July. A decision was stated off by the acceptance of the first payment on a silver basis, the United States reserving the right to demand any balance of the instalment that might be due if it should ultimately be held that the settlement should be made on a gold basis. The next payment will become due at the beginning of the next calendar year, and it is desirable that the question shall be settled before that date or at least that it shall be put in the way of a final settlement.

Therefore Mr. Wu is striving to arrange for the submission of the question to the arbitration of The Hague, and to that end he has appealed to the government of the United States for help in influencing the other powers who were to receive indemnities. Secretary Hay has met the appeal favourably, and in proof of his disposition has consented to accept the proposition by behalf of the United States if the other powers can bring it into line. Of this there is much doubt, as China has no means of exerting anything more than moral suasion upon the parties, who are naturally reluctant to submit to the chances of an adverse decision, claims which they now hold as good.
